DETAILED ACTION

Amendment

1. Receipt is acknowledged of Preliminary Amendment filed 1 February 2002.

Claim Objections

2. Claims 22 and 31 are objected to because of the following informalities:
 - Claim 22, line 2: "to" should be replaced with "the", i.e., --the deflectable arm--.
 - Claim 22, line 4: "a" should be deleted, i.e., --said card stop--.
 - Claim 31, line 13: "the effect" lacks of antecedent basis and should be changed to "an effect".

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 21-23, 26-27, 29, 31-33, 36-37, and 39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Koike et al. (US 4,358,103; hereinafter "Koike").

Re claims 21, 26-27, 31, and 36-37: Koike teaches a card stop apparatus for a card reader, the card stop apparatus comprising:

a card stop (as shown in figs. 5A-5D) disposed in a path (29 in figs. 5A-5D) of a card (28 in figs. 5A-5D) inserted into the card reader (i.e., the card transporting apparatus), the card stop being rotatable out of the card path about an axis of rotation (14-2 in figs. 5A-5D) extending transverse to the card path; and an arm (11 in figs. 5A-5D), rotatably coupled to the card stop, the arm being deflectable about an axis of rotation extending transverse to the card path, and behind the card stop in a card inserting direction, the arm being pretensioned (i.e., the spring 24; col. 7, lines 7-18) into a pivoting position engaging the card path (see figs. 5A-5D; col. 4, line 10 through col. 5, line 43).

Art Unit: 2876

Re claims 22-23 and 32-33: Koike teaches a card stop apparatus for a card reader, wherein the deflectable arm is formed by a first arm (14-1) of a two-armed lever with a second arm (14-3) of the lever being rotatably coupled to the card stop (see figs. 5A-5D).

Re claims 29 and 39: Koike teaches a card stop apparatus for a card reader, further comprising a tension spring (24, 13-1, 13-2) for pretensioning the arm, the spring being interconnected between the arm and a card reader housing (see figs. 4A and 5A-5D; col. 2, line 65 through col. 3, line 12).

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 24-25, 28, 30, 34-35, 38, and 40 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

6. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

The record of prior art fails to teach or fairly suggest that a card stop apparatus for a card reader, wherein the card stop is formed as a bolt having a recess disposed in the card path and the deflectable arm is formed by a first arm of a two-armed lever with a second arm of the lever being rotatably coupled to the card stop, the second arm is hinged to the card stop at a radial distance from the arm axis of rotation, the stop is formed or a bolt having a recess disposed in the card path, the bolt is generally round and the recess comprise a circle segment, the deflectable arm includes a slope pattern extending into the card path at an angle to the card path, a nose of the deflectable arm engages the card path, the card stop comprises a separating edge on a side pivoting in the card path and a tension spring pretensions the arm, the spring being interconnected below the arm and a card reader housing.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure . Kitahara (US 5,466,914) teaches recording reproducing apparatus with a mechanism for preventing successive insertion of two cards. Mita et al. (US 5,045,674) teaches IC card reader/writer having rotating contact support with pin-check verification. Hashimoto et al. (US 5,017,764) teaches apparatus for driving card-like record medium. Kilborn (US 4,527,052) teaches autoteller card handling mechanism. Morello et al. (US 3,909,595) teaches entry gate construction for credit card actuated automatic remote banking equipment. Kreitzer (US 3,850,299) teaches card transport and capture mechanism.
